INDEX

Australian Journal of Reading

Vols. 9-12 (1986-1989)

Author index

Allen, Sheilah. Study Skills: A Joint Teacher-Student Responsibility. 9(2), 1986, 78-83.

Anstey, Michele. Helping children learn how to learn. 11(4), 1988, 269-277.

Baird, John (see Cranstone, Richard).

Baker, Carolyn and Freebody, Peter. Possible worlds and possible people: interpretive challenges in beginning school reading books. 11(2), 1988, 95-104.

Barnett, Jenny. Integrating ESL into the General Curriculum. 9(3), 1986, 153-158.

Bates, Ruby (see Gambrell, Linda)

Beggs, Alan; Clough, John; Grant, John; Smith, Maryln; Sciberras, Simon. Points of View. 12(4), 1989, 265-269.

Bickmore, Jennie. Language in mathematics (Editorial). 12(2), 1989, 85-88.

Bintz, William P. Reconceptualizing summary writing: From evaluative ending point to instructional starting point. 12(1), 1989, 31-38.

Bodycott, Peter. Developing reader critics: products of wholistic learning. 10(3), 1987, 135-146.

Boomer, Garth. Is there an ill wind? Multiple perspectives on national initiatives and classroom practice. 12(3), 1989, 181-196.

Boulay, Gayle du. Newspapers: text for non-narrative and narrative writing. 11(3), 1988, 206-210.

Brimble, Ron. An Interaction, Question-Response Strategy: Focus on the sentence in content reading. 9(2), 1986, 84-90.

Broadley, Kathy. Past Practices and Possibilities with Computers. 9(1), 1986, 41-50.

Brock, Sue. Talking helps young writers. 10(2), 1987,100-119.

Builder, Philip. Catering for the Range of Learners. 9(4), 1986, 209-217.

Burchett, Dennis (see Kerekes, Beverley).

Cairney, Trevor. Teaching reading comprehension: the development of critical and creative readers. 11(3), 1988, 184-194.

Cairney, Trevor. The social foundations of literacy. 10(2), 1987, 84-96.

Cairns, Len. Reading theory into practice: The practicalities. 12(3), 1989, 223-231.

Cambourne, Brian. A grounded theory of genre acquisition: learning to control different textual forms. 10(4), 1987, 261-266.

Cambourne, Brian. Process Writing and Non-English Speaking Background Children. 9(3), 1986, 126-138.

Campagna, Helen. Making sure they have a go: Year 6/7's persuasive writing. 10(4), 1987, 226-237.

Campagna, Helen. Teaching English as a Second Language Around Australia (Around Australia). 9(3) , 1986, 186-191.

Campagna, Helen. Teaching the Range Around Australia (Around Australia). 9(4), 1986, 258-262.

Casburn, Judy. Improving interactions in a reception class. 10(2), 1987, 75-83.
Chalmers, Denise (see Lawrence, Jeanette).
Christie, Frances. Factual writing in the first years of school. 10(4), 1987, 207-216.
Clay, Marie. Young Readers and their Cultural Connections. 9(4), 1986, 239-250.
Collas, Kay. ELIC two years later: one teacher's view. 10(3), 1987, 171-176.
Cranstone, Richard and Baird, John. An integrative perspective on metacognition. 11(4), 1988, 238-245.
Dunne, Robert. Transition from primary to secondary: Some thoughts. 12(4), 1989, 275-283.
Edmunds, Joy (see Stoessiger, Rex).
Elkins, John. Literacy and the transition to secondary school. 12(4), 1989, 300-305.
Ellerton, Nerida. The interface between mathematics and language. 12(2), 1989, 92-102.
Fagan, William and Hayden, Helen. Reading Books with Young Children: Opportunities for Concept Development. 9(1), 1986, 11-19.
Fler, Marilyn. Using microcomputers to support early literacy learning. 10(3), 1987, 177-182.
Freebody, Peter. Acquiring school-literacy in mathematics. (Research report No. 2). 12(2), 1989, 162-165.
Freebody, Peter. Building the contracts of literacy in the pre-school years. (Research report no. 1). 12(1), 1989, 66-69.
Freebody, Peter. Phonemic awareness, decoding and reading comprehension in early schooling. (Research report no. 3). 12(3), 1989, 246-249.
Freebody, Peter (see McKeown, Gerry).
Freebody, Peter. What counts as 'Knowing content'? (Research report No. 4). 12(4), 1989, 336-339.
Gambrell, Linda and Bates, Ruby. Visual imagery: a strategy for enhancing listening, reading and writing. 10(3), 1987, 147-153.
Gawned, Sue. The language of classification. 12(2), 1989, 103-113.
Gibbs, Colin. Over the page... around the pictures... and into the squiggles. 11(1), 1988, 22-35.
Gibbs, Colin. What do beginner readers say when they 'read'? 10(3), 1987, 158-170.
Goodall, Marilyn (see Sharpley, Christopher F.).
Green, Bill and Reid, Jo-Anne. A curriculum framework: Teaching for powerful learning. 12(3), 1989, 197-209.
Green, Max. Spelling within one school's whole language framework. 11(1), 1988, 11-21.
Groenewold, W. and Hayden, H.M. Writing is more than words on a page. 12(1), 1989, 48-56.
Hancock, Joelie. Teaching the Range of Language Learners (Editorial). 9(4), 1986, 199.
Hancock, Joelie. Non-narrative writing (Editorial). 10(4), 1987, 195.
Hancock, Joelie. Talk in classrooms (Editorial). 10(2), 1987, 67.
Hastwell, Chris. Celebrating learning through informational writing. 10(4), 1987, 196-206.
Hayden, Helen (see Fagan, William; also Groenewold, W.).
Hill, Susan. Children's Individual Responses to Literature in the Primary School. 9(1), 1986, 26-35.

Hiller, Claire. Picture books - who for? 10(1), 1987, 4-8.
Hogan, Triscia. So nervous about noise. 10(2), 1987, 68-74.
Hudelson, Sarah (see Rigg, Pat).
Hughes, John and Katz, Rita. Communicative strategies and the teaching of literacy. 12(1), 1989, 39-47.
Hughes, John. Inside-Out, Outside-In: Which Approach is Best for the Second Language Learner? 9(3), 1986, 159-166.
Ireland, Robert. The Problems of Anxious Readers. 9(1), 1986, 36-40.
Johns, Jerry. Ingredients for a Sound Reading Program. 9(1), 1986, 3-10.
Johnson, Terry. The writing lesson. 10(1), 1987, 45.
Johnson, Terry (see also Rivalland, Judith).
Kale, Joan. Strategies for encouraging development of the first language of children in early education settings where English is not the mother tongue. 12(3), 1989, 210-222.
Katz, Rita. The Life Experience Approach with L2 Learners: The Case Against Correction. 9(3), 1986, 180-185.
Katz, Rita (see also Hughes, John).
Kemp, Max. Parents as teachers of literacy: What more have we learned from them? 10(1), 1987, 25-31.
Kemp, Max. The Wholistic Classroom: Assessment of Children with Special Needs. 9(4), 1986, 218-225.
Kerekes, Beverley and Burchett, Dennis. Even Roses have Thorns: Implementing a Literature Based Reading Program. 9(1), 1986, 20-25.
Kirby, John (see Robinson, Greg).
Larking, Lewis. Repeated readings to young children. 11(1), 1988, 36-41.
Lawrence, Jeanette; Chalmers, Denise; Pears, Harriett E. Promoting students' notetaking skills. 12(1), 1989, 22-30.
Leaker, Jane. Planning for success in the classroom. 11(3), 1988, 165-175.
Luke, Allan. Functional literacy in the classroom. 11(1), 1988, 4-10.
Luke, Allan. The non-neutrality of literacy instruction: a critical introduction. 11(2), 1988, 79-83.
MacGregor, Mollie. Reading and writing mathematics. 12(2), 1989, 153-161.
McCann, Maria. Gifted Children: Enriching their Literacy Skills. 9(4), 1986, 251-257.
McEvedy, M. Rosanna. Some Social, Cultural and Linguistic Issues in Teaching Reading to Children who Speak English as a Second Language. 9(3), 1986, 139-152.
McIntyre, John. Helping parents to help children develop as writers. 10(1), 1987, 46-53.
McKeown, Gerry and Freebody, Peter. The language of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal children and the texts they encounter in schools. 11(2), 1988, 115-126.
Moore, Phillip. On the incidental learning of vocabulary. 10(1), 1987, 12-19.
Morris, Bert. Preparation of Australian secondary teachers in the teaching of reading. 11(1), 1988, 54-64.
Munro, John. Reading in mathematics: A subset of reading. 12(2), 1989, 114-128.
Nesbitt, Phil. Reading achievement and school performance in the transition years. 12(4), 1989, 284-289.
Nolan, Frank. The demise of Process Writing. 11(3), 1988, 195-199.
Nunan, David. Teaching Students with English as a Second Language (Editorial). 9(3), 1986, 114-115.

O'Brien, Jennier. Children ask the questions: gaining power over print. 11(3), 1988, 176-183.
O'Loughlin, Jane. The transition years: One teacher's perspective. 12(4), 1989, 270-274.
Olson, David. Literacy, cognition and the cultural conventions of text: an interview. 11(2), 1988, 105-114.
Pears, Harriett E. (see Lawrence, Jeanette).
Pengelly, Helen. Mapping mathematical meaning through writing. 12(2), 1989,
Pigdon, Keith and Woolley, Marilyn. Continuity and change: The development of holistic approaches to language and learning. 12(1), 1989, 57-61.
Reeves, Noelene. Language and mathematics in Australian education: An overview. 12(2), 1989, 89-91.
Reeves, Noelene. Understanding mathematical literacy. 12(4), 1989, 306-311.
Reid, Jo-Anne (see Green, Bill).
Rigg, Pat and Hudelson, Sarah. One Child Doesn't Speak English. 9(3), 1986, 116-125.
Rivalland, Judith. Meaning making: A juggling act. 12(1), 1989, 5-21.
Rivalland, Judith and Johnson, Terry. Literary lifeboat: an environmental approach to writing instruction. 11(1), 1988, 42-53.
Robinson, Greg and Kirby, John. Remedial instruction in reading: Guidelines from information integration theory. 10(1), 1987, 32-44.
Robinson, Ian. Key Group and EMIC and the language of mathematics. 12(2), 1989, 141-152.
Rowe, Helga. Metacognitive skills: promises and problems. 11(4), 1988, 227-237.
Sharpley, Christopher F. and Goodall, Marilyn. Oral reading error rates among primary school children. 12(3), 1989, 232-238.
Shortland-Jones, Bruce. Metacognition and language learning (Editorial). 11(4), 1988, 225-226.
Singh, Michael. Becoming socially critical: literacy, knowledge and counter-construction. 11(3), 1988, 155-164.
Smith, Deonne. Talking with young children about their reading. 10(2), 1987, 120-123.
Smith, Joan. Reading Recovery in Central Victoria: What we have learnt? 9(4), 1986, 201-208.
Smith, Kenneth. The phoneme as a conveyor of meaning. 10(1), 1987, 20-24.
Stewart-Dore, Nea. 'Kids can't do everything on their own . . .' An adolescent's view of what learning in school means. 12(4), 1989, 290-299.
Stoessiger, Rex and Edmunds, Joy. Metaphors for mathematics. 12(2), 1989, 129-
Symington, David (see Swan, Susan).
Swan, Susan and Symington, David. Children's conceptions of the purpose of pictures in a story book. 10(1), 2987, 9-11.
Tevlin, Anne-Marie. Questions: a reading-writing strategy. 10(3), 1987, 154-157.
Thomas, David. Issues in Withdrawal and Support Teaching. 9(4), 1986, 226-238.
Tobin, Barbara. Leading Children to Pleasure Reading: The role of the West Australian Young Readers Books Award. 9(2), 1986, 95-100.
Truscott, Ed. Literacy, primary to secondary school, the transition years: A commentary. 12(4), 1989, 263-264.
Truscott, Ed. Literacy; Primary to secondary school transition (Editorial). 12(4), 1989, 261-262.

Turbill, Jan. Learning to be literate: children make the connections. 10(4), 1987, 217-225.
Unsworth, Len. Whole language or procedural display? The social context of popular whole language activities. 11(2), 1988, 127-137.
Van Laar, Marty. Parent participation reading programme: A three year follow-up. 12(3), 1989, 239-245.
Walker, Ian. Process writing in the content areas. 10(4), 1987, 243-253.
Walshe, R.D. The upsurge in process writing. 12(1), 1989, 62-65.
Walshe, Richard D. The future lies in integration. 10(4), 1987, 238-242.
Ward, Geoff. The social context of literacy instruction (Editorial). 11(2), 1988, 77-78.
Weis, Jan. Helping Matthew write a report. 10(4), 1987, 254-260.
Wells, Gordon. Creating communities for literacy development. 11(2), 1988, 84-94.
Whitehead, David. What Shall we Teach Children to Help Them Comprehend? 9(2), 1986, 59-69.
Wignell, Edel. Chalk and cheese. 11(3), 1988, 200-205.
Williams, Valerie. Second Phase Learners: an Analysis of some Issues, Expectations and Strategies. 9(3), 1986, 167-179.
Wilson, Lorraine. Process Writing: What do we mean? 9(2), 1986, 91-94.
Wilson, Rosemary. Helping Students to Read Effectively in the Content Areas. 9(2), 1986, 70-77.
Winser, Bill. Readers getting control of reading. 11(4), 1988, 257-268.
Woolley, Marilyn (see Pigdon, Keith).
Wong, Bernice. Self-questioning strategy training: from theory to practice. 11(4), 1988, 246-256.
Zubrick, Ann. Oral narrative in young children: implications for early reading and writing. 10(2), 1987, 97-99.

Title index

A curriculum framework: Teaching for powerful learning. Green, Bill and Reid, Jo-Anne. 12(3), 1989, 197-209.
A grounded theory of genre acquisition: learning to control different textual forms. Cambourne, Brian. 10(4), 1987, 261-266.
Acquiring School-literacy in mathematics. (Research report no. 2). Freebody, Peter, 12(4), 1989, 162-165.
An Interaction, Question-Response Strategy: Focus on the sentence in content reading. Brimble, Ron. 9(2), 1986, 84-90.
An integrative perspective on metacognition. Cranstone, Richard and Baird, John. 11(4), 1988, 238-245.
Becoming socially critical: literacy, knowledge and counter-construction. Singh, Michael. 11(3), 1988, 155-164.
Building the contracts of literacy in the pre-school years. (Research report no. 1). Freebody, Peter, 12(4), 1989, 66-69.

Catering for the Range of Learners. Builder, Philip. 9(4), 1986, 209-217.
Celebrating learning through informational writing. Hastwell, Chris. 10(4), 1987, 196-206.
Chalk and cheese. Wignell, Edel. 11(3), 1988, 200-205.
Children ask the questions: gaining power over print. O'Brien, Jennier. 11(3), 1988, 176-183.
Children's conceptions of the purpose of pictures in a story book. Swan, Susan and Symington, David. 10(1), 1987, 9-11.
Children's Individual Responses to Literature in the Primary School. Hill, Susan. 9(1), 1986, 26-35.
Communicative strategies and the teaching of literacy. Hughes, John and Katz, Rita. 12(1), 1989, 39-47.
Continuity and change: The development of holistic approaches to language and learning. Pigdon, Keith and Woolley, Marilyn. 12(1), 1989, 57-61.
Creating communities for literacy development. Wells, Gordon. 11(2), 1988, 84-94.
Developing reader critics: products of wholistic learning. Bodycott, Peter. 10(3), 1987, 135-146.
ELIC two years later: one teacher's view. Collas, Kay. 10(3), 1987, 171-176.
Even Roses have Thorns: Implementing a Literature Based Reading Program. Kerekes, Beverley and Burchett, Dennis. 9(1), 1986, 20-25.
Factual writing in the first years of school. Christie, Frances. 10(4), 1987, 207-216.
Functional literacy in the classroom. Luke, Allan. 11(1), 1988, 4-10.
Gifted Children: Enriching their Literacy Skills. McCann, Maria. 9(4), 1986, 251-257.
Helping children learn how to learn. Anstey, Michele. 11(4), 1988, 269-277.
Helping Matthew write a report. Weis, Jan. 10(4), 1987, 254-260.
Helping parents to help children develop as writers. McIntyre, John. 10(1), 1987, 46-53.
Helping Students to Read Effectively in the Content Areas. Wilson, Rosemary. 9(2), 1986, 70-77.
Improving interactions in a reception class. Casburn, Judy. 10(2), 1987, 75-83.
Ingredients for a Sound Reading Program. Johns, Jerry. 9(1), 1986, 3-10.
Inside-Out, Outside-In: Which Approach is Best for the Second Language earner? Hughes, John. 9(3), 1986, 159-166.
Integrating ESL into the General Curriculum. Barnett, Jenny. 9(3), 1986, 153-158.
Is there an ill wind? Multiple perspectives on national initiatives and classroom practice. Boomer, Garth. 12(3), 1989, 181-196.
Issues in Withdrawal and Support Teaching. Thomas, David. 9(4), 1986, 226-238.
Key Group and EMIC and the language of mathematics. Robinson, Ian. 12(2), 1989, 141-152.
'Kids can't do everything on their own . . .' An adolescent's view of what learning in school means. Stewart-Dore, Nea. 12(4), 1989, 290-299.
Language and mathematics in Australian education: An overview. Reeves, Noelene. 12(2), 1989, 89-91.
Language in mathematics (Editorial). Bickmore, Jennie. 12(2), 1989, 85-88.
Leading Children to Pleasure Reading: The role of the West Australian Young Readers Books Award. Tobin, Barbara. 9(2), 1986, 95-100.

Learning to be literate: children make the connections. Turbill, Jan. 10(4), 1987, 217-225.
Literacy and the transition to secondary school. Elkins, John. 12(4), 1989, 300-305.
Literacy, cognition and the cultural conventions of text: an interview. Olson, David. 11(2), 1988, 105-114.
Literacy; Primary to secondary school transition (Editorial). Truscott, Ed. 12(4), 1989, 261-262.
Literacy, primary to secondary school, the transition years: A commentary. Truscott, Ed. 12(4), 1989, 263-264.
Literary lifeboat: an environmental approach to writing instruction. Rivalland, Judith and Johnson, Terry. 11(1), 1988, 42-53.
Making sure they have a go: Year 6/7's persuasive writing. Campagna, Helen. 10(4), 1987, 226-237.
Mapping mathematical meaning through writing. Pengelly, Helen. 12(2), 1989,
Meaning making: A juggling act. Rivalland, Judith. 12(1), 1989, 5-21.
Metacognition and language learning (Editorial). Shortland-Jones, Bruce. 11(4), 1988, 225-226.
Metacognitive skills: promises and problems. Rowe, Helga. 11(4), 1988, 227-237.
Metaphors for mathematics. Stoessiger, Rex and Edmunds, Joy. 12(2), 1989, 129-
Newspapers: text for non-narrative and narrative writing. Boulay, Gayle du. 11(3), 1988, 206-210.
Non-narrative writing (Editorial). Hancock, Joelie. 10(4), 1987, 195.
On the incidental learning of vocabulary. Moore, Phillip. 10(1), 1987, 12-19.
One Child Doesn't Speak English. Rigg, Pat and Hudelson, Sarah. 9(3), 1986, 116-125.
Oral narrative in young children: implications for early reading and writing. Zubrick, Ann. 10(2), 1987, 97-99.
Oral reading error rates among primary school children. Sharpley, Christopher F. and Goodall, Marilyn. 12(3), 1989, 232-238.
Over the page... around the pictures... and into the squiggles. Gibbs, Colin. 11(1), 1988, 22-35.
Parent participation reading programme: A three year follow-up. Van Laar, Marty. 12(3), 1989, 239-245.
Parents as teachers of literacy: What more have we learned from them? Kemp, Max. 10(1), 1987, 25-31.
Past Practices and Possibilities with Computers. Broadley, Kathy. 9(1), 1986, 41-50.
Picture books - who for? Hiller, Claire. 10(1), 1987, 4-8.
Phonemic awareness, decoding and reading comprehension in early schooling. (Research report No. 3). Freebody, Peter. 12(3), 1989, 246-249.
Planning for success in the classroom. Leaker, Jane. 11(3), 1988, 165-175.
Points of View. Beggs, Alan; Clough, John; Grant, John; Smith, Maryln; Sciberras, Simon. 12(4), 1989, 265-270.
Possible worlds and possible people: interpretive challenges in beginning school reading books. Baker, Carolyn and Freebody, Peter. 11(2), 1988, 95-104.
Preparation of Australian secondary teachers in the teaching of reading. Morris, Bert. 11(1), 1988, 54-64.
Process Writing and Non-English Speaking Background Children. Cambourne, Brian. 9(3), 1986, 126-138.

Process Writing: What do we mean? Wilson, Lorraine. 9(2), 1986, 91-94.
Process writing in the content areas. Walker, Ian. 10(4), 1987, 243-253.
Promoting students' notetaking skills. Lawrence, Jeanette; Chalmers, Denise; Pears, Harriett E. 12(1), 1989, 22-30.
Questions: a reading-writing strategy. Tevlin, Anne-Marie. 10(3), 1987, 154-157.
Readers getting control of reading. Winser, Bill. 11(4), 1988, 257-268.
Reading achievement and school performance in the transition years. Nesbitt, Phil. 12(4), 1989, 284-289.
Reading and writing mathematics. MacGregor, Mollie. 12(2), 1989, 153-161.
Reading Books with Young Children: Opportunities for Concept Development. Fagan, William and Hayden, Helen. 9(1), 1986, 11-19.
Reading in mathematics: A subset of reading. Munro, John. 12(2), 1989, 114-128.
Reading Recovery in Central Victoria: What we have learnt? Smith, Joan. 9(4), 1986, 201-208.
Reading theory into practice: The practicalities. Cairns, Len. 12(3), 1989, 223-231.
Reconceptualizing summary writing: From evaluative ending point to instructional starting point. Bintz, William P. 12(1), 1989, 31-38.
Remedial instruction in reading: Guidelines from information integration theory. Robinson, Greg and Kirby, John. 10(1), 1987, 32-44.
Repeated readings to young children. Larking, Lewis. 11(1), 1988, 36-41.
Research reports 1-4. Freebody, Peter. 12(1)(2)(3)(4), 1989. (refer to author entry for title listing.)
Second Phase Learners: an Analysis of some Issues, Expectations and Strategies. Williams, Valerie. 9(3), 1986, 167-179.
Self-questioning strategy training: from theory to practice. Wong, Bernice. 11(4), 1988, 246-256.
So nervous about noise. Hogan, Triscia. 10(2), 1987, 68-74.
Some Social, Cultural and Linguistic Issues in Teaching Reading to Children who Speak English as a Second Language. McEvedy, M. Rosanna. 9(3), 1986, 139-152.
Spelling within one school's whole language framework. Green, Max. 11(1), 1988, 11-21.
Strategies for encouraging development of the first language of children in early education settings where English is not the mother tongue. Kale, Joan. 12(3), 1989, 210-222.
Study Skills: A Joint Teacher-Student Responsibility. Allen, Sheilah. 9(2), 1986, 78-83.
Talk in classrooms (Editorial). Hancock, Joelie. 10(2), 1987, 67.
Talking helps young writers. Brock, Sue. 10(2), 1987,100-119.
Talking with young children about their reading. Smith, Deonne. 10(2), 1987, 120-123.
Teaching English as a Second Language Around Australia (Around Australia). 9(3), 1986, 186-191.
Teaching reading comprehension: the development of critical and creative readers. Cairney, Trevor. 11(3), 1988, 184-194.
Teaching Students with English as a Second Language (Editorial). Nunan, David. 9(3), 1986, 114-115.
Teaching the Range Around Australia (Around Australia) 9(3), 1986, 258-262.

Teaching the Range of Language Learners (Editorial). Hancock, Joelie. 9(4), 1986, 199.
Textbooks over-relied on but under-utilised. Morris, Bert. 12(4), 1989, 312-335.
The demise of Process Writing. Nolan, Frank. 11(3), 1988, 195-199.
The future lies in integration. Walshe, Richard D. 10(4), 1987, 238-242.
The interface between mathematics and language. Ellerton, Nerida. 12(2), 1989, 92-102.
The Life Experience Approach with L2 Learners: The Case Against Correction. Katz, Rita. 9(3), 1986, 180-185.
The language of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal children and the texts they encounter in schools. McKeown, Gerry and Freebody, Peter. 11(2), 1988, 115-126.
The language of classification. Gawned, Sue. 12(2), 1989, 103-113.
The non-neutrality of literacy instruction: a critical introduction. Luke, Allan. 11(2), 1988, 79-83.
The Problems of Anxious Readers. Ireland, Robert. 9(1), 1986, 36-40.
The phoneme as a conveyor of meaning. Smith, Kenneth. 10(1), 1987, 20-24.
The social context of literacy instruction (Editorial). Ward, Geoff. 11(2), 1988, 77-78.
The social foundations of literacy. Cairney, Trevor. 10(2), 1987, 84-96.
The transition years: One teacher's perspective. O'Loughlin, Jane. 12(4), 1989, 270-274.
The upsurge in process writing. Walshe, R.D. 12(1), 1989, 62-65.
The Wholistic Classroom: Assessment of Children with Special Needs. Kemp, Max. 9(4), 1986, 218-225.
The writing lesson. Johnson, Terry. 10(1), 1987, 45.
Transition from primary to secondary: Some thoughts. Dunne, Robert. 12(4), 1989, 275-283.
Understanding mathematical literacy. Reeves, Noelene. 12(4), 1989, 306-311.
Using microcomputers to support early literacy learning. Fler, Marilyn. 10(3), 1987, 177-182.
Visual imagery: a strategy for enhancing listening, reading and writing. Gambrell, Linda and Bates, Ruby. 10(3), 1987, 147-153.
What counts as 'Knowing content'? (Research Report 4). Freebody, Peter. 12(4), 1989, 336.
What do beginner readers say when they 'read'? Gibbs, Colin. 10(3), 1987, 158-170.
What Shall We Teach Children to Help Them Comprehend? Whitehead, David. 9(2), 1986, 59-69.
Whole language or procedural display? The social context of popular whole language activities. Unsworth, Len. 11(2), 1988, 127-137.
Writing is more than words on a page. Groenewold, W. and Hayden, H.M. 12(1), 1989, 48-56.
Young Readers and their Cultural Connections. Clay, Marie. 9(4), 1986, 239-250.